Beautiful book to color in. The drawings are intricate and lovely. I only have one suggestion, please place each drawing on one page. I can not use markers with this book because they would leak through to the other drawing. Otherwise, this book is wonderful.

This is one of the most beautiful Dover books I have ever seen. The angels have such beautiful faces and the scenes they are in are just perfect. I am really enjoying this book. I am using colored pencils for this book as I want to be able to blend shades of skin and show shadows and depth. If you love Dover books and angels this is a must buy. You will not be disappointed.

I am a big fan of Dover coloring books. This Angel coloring book has lovely and peaceful pictures of angels. There are lots of details. Unlike many Dover coloring books, this one has no captions- just pictures.

I am in the I haven't colored since childhood category but have really enjoyed playing with different colored pencils, Sharpies and Gelly- Stardust pens in this book and just seeing what each one had to offer. I thought the pictures were too pretty to risk ruining with the wrong colors or bleed through, so I just made copies of the pages. It "frees me up to try riskier things and I have less stress while I color too, no loss when it doesn't turn out the way I wanted it to, or I accidentally grab the wrong Gelly Pen. There's a nice mix of some easier pictures (great for when I'm really tired or when my arthritis flares) and some more challenging ones. I colored one when a close friend died and it was therapeutic and peaceful. :)

This angel coloring book is quite nice, the pages are heavy and the pictures are attractive. There are fine details that may be better for those who have a steady hand but really it's nice for any age. For my purposes I am copying the pages onto cardstock so that the book can be reused.

My mother, an artist...rather former artist prior to pancreatic cancer, loves angels and this coloring book far and exceeds her (and my own) expectations. She fell in love with the flowing lines and the comforting zen-like nature of the images. Each Angel was beautiful to her in various ways and she even remembered the original artwork where some images were derived from in order to make the lines into a coloring book. The smiles on her face and how she began working with one of the images with the high-end colored pencils she uses was a joy to behold. This is definitely a coloring book with fine details and not a child's coloring book. I am very pleased with this book and know others will also feel the same way.

Unable to find my favorite coloring books from "RED FARM STUDIOS" I decided to get a few of these, I'm happy I did. The illustrations really are quite nice, the finished angel could be easily framed. There are 30 of these beautiful pages to bring to life. These pages are however double sided so paints & permanent markers really wouldn't be an option. These pages are also not perforated, so care will be needed when removing them from this book. Each angel will relax you, calm you and give you that quiet time so many of us want. Each page will be craving many, many beautiful colors. 109 crayola box is what I have along with crayola's 30 twistable pencils. They are retractable & can't be sharpened, but I enjoy using them. NOTE just a few of uncolored pages , so you have some idea of this book.Hope this helps.THANKS FOR READING, BYE. ^,,

You can't go wrong with Marty Noble's artwork, she's one of the best! This coloring book by her is definitely one of my favs! It's 30 pages printed back-to-back on quality white stock paper of gorgeous and detailed heavenly angel images amid various backgrounds.If you love angels, don't miss out on this one, you won't regret it! It's very, very good!
